Mark scheme

November 2021

Version: 1.0 Final

Mark schemes are prepared by the Lead Assessment Writer and considered, together with the relevant questions, by a panel of subject teachers. This mark scheme includes any amendments made at the standardisation events which all associates participate in and is the scheme which was used by them in this examination. The standardisation process ensures that the mark scheme covers the learners' responses to questions and that every associate understands and applies it in the same correct way. As preparation for standardisation each associate analyses a number of learners' scripts. Alternative answers not already covered by the mark scheme are discussed and legislated for. If, after the standardisation process, associates encounter unusual answers which have not been raised they are required to refer these to the Lead Examiner.

It must be stressed that a mark scheme is a working document, in many cases further developed and expanded on the basis of learners' reactions to a particular paper. Assumptions about future mark schemes on the basis of one year's document should be avoided; whilst the guiding principles of assessment remain constant, details will change, depending on the content of a particular examination paper.

Further copies of this mark scheme are available from aqa.org.uk

Level of response marking instructions

Level of response mark schemes are broken down into levels, each of which has a descriptor. The descriptor for the level shows the average performance for the level. There are marks in each level.

Before you apply the mark scheme to a learner's answer, read through the answer and annotate it (as instructed) to show the qualities that are being looked for. You can then apply the mark scheme.

Step 1 Determine a level

Start by reading the whole of the learner's response and then, using the mark scheme level descriptors and the standardisation scripts, place the response in the level which it matches or best fits.

When assigning a level you should look at the overall quality of the answer and not look to pick holes in small and specific parts of the answer where the learner has not performed quite as well as the rest. If the answer covers different aspects of different levels of the mark scheme you should use a best fit approach for defining the level.

Step 2 Determine a mark

Once you have assigned a level you need to decide on the mark. The exemplar materials used during standardisation will help. There will be an answer in the standardising materials which will correspond with each level of the mark scheme. This answer will have been awarded a mark by the Lead Examiner. You can compare the learner's answer with the example to determine if it is the same standard, better or worse than the example. You can then use this to allocate a mark for the answer based on the Lead Examiner's mark on the example.

You may well need to read back through the answer as you apply the mark scheme to clarify points and assure yourself that the level and the mark are appropriate.

Content descriptors in the mark scheme are provided as a guide for examiners in exemplifying the skills descriptors for the particular task.

An answer which contains nothing of relevance to the question must be awarded no marks. Annotate the response with "Nothing worthy of credit".

FURTHER GUIDANCE

In all questions, use ticks to identify correct points and the Comments Bank for question-specific comments as needed.

For tick box questions, tick every correct space only. If all four points are correct there is no need to tick, simply use the “All four correct” comment from the bank.

If there is no attempt at a question, indicate using a dash (-) rather than a zero. Annotate the blank response space with “SEEN”. If a response is crossed out and there is a second attempt, ignore the crossed-out section. If there is no second attempt, mark the crossed-out response if it is legible.

With Questions 5.1 / 5.2 and Q10 / 11, it is possible that candidates will transpose their answers. If there is any indication that this may be so, use whole response view to check what is written in the other parts of the response and award marks / escalate as appropriate.

INDICATIVE CONTENT

Emboldened text must be included in the candidate’s response in order to secure the mark(s). Bracketed information indicates optional content ie does not need to be included to secure the mark but does not negate the mark if it is included.

Slashes indicate alternative options, only one of which may be accepted. Single slashes indicate synonymous ways of expressing the same word or idea; double slashes indicate alternative ways of expressing the same point eg

Free ticket for coach / bus drivers // coach / bus drivers are allowed free entry

Indicative content

Answers may mention the following:

	Similarities	Differences
The information, ideas and opinions, including level of detail	Both about chocolate Both persuasive	A is a news article; C is a web page A is critical of the chocolate industry; C is neutral A wants to highlight the issue of child labour and get people to buy chocolate to help their plight; C wants to persuade people to raise funds for research into heart disease
Presentation and language	Both use colour and images Both use statistics	A uses a picture to shock and add weight to the issues raised in the text; C uses a photograph more for aesthetic purposes
Level of formality		A is formal; C is more friendly and chatty
Possible bias	Both are biased	A is biased against the chocolate companies who exploit the farmers and against the farmers who exploit the children; C is biased in favour of the people who suffer from heart disease and would benefit from life-saving research
How the writers come across	Both sources are trying to get readers to change their behaviour	A wants people to buy Fairtrade chocolate rather than well-known brands; C asks readers to stop eating chocolate for a month A is serious and critical in tone but positive about the Fairtrade brand; C is appealing and reassuring about the benefits of undertaking the Dechox Challenge; C is much more light-hearted in tone
